

THE LITTLE ENGINE THAT COULD™

HIDE AND SEEK!

“Let’s play hide-and-seek!” say all the dolls and toys.

The Little Blue Engine is "It." She shuts her eyes, and the dolls and toys hide.

“Ready or not, here I come!” shouts
the Little Blue Engine.

She opens her eyes and starts to look for her friends.

She finds the dolls hiding behind a haystack.
She finds the monkey hiding in a barrel.

She finds the elephant behind the barn.

She finds the soldiers and the bears in the bushes.

But where is her friend the clown?
The Little Blue Engine looks and looks.

No clown in the forest—
just some friendly bunnies.

No clown in the field—
just some fuzzy kittens.

And no clown in the garden—
just some fluttery butterflies.

“Where would a funny clown hide?”
she thinks.

All of a sudden she stops in her tracks.

"I think I can find him now," she says.

"I think I can, I think I can."

And she does!

She finds the funny clown hiding
in a funny place!
